1 / SYMPHONY FANTASTIQUE

For Amsterdam's Conservatorium Hotel, architect and designer Piero Lissoni has partly encased a former 19th-century music school in glass. The 129 rooms feature midcentury and contemporary furnishings mixed with vintage Asian pieces. Van Baerlestraat 27, 011-31-20-570-0000; conservatoriumhotel.com

2 / HISTORY LESSON

Caffè Storico is a glittering addition to the New York Historical Society's recent renovation.

3 / MOUNTAIN HIGH

Washington School House, a luxury boutique hotel in Park City, Utah, occupies an 1889 schoolhouse. It's furnished with Gustavian antiques and is sited in a prime location near the slopes. 543 Park Ave., 435-649-3800; washingtonschoolhouse.com

4 / COASTAL CACHET

The Dutch restaurant in Manhattan has opened a second outpost, in Miami's W South Beach. Chef Andrew Carmellini serves up-to-date American cuisine with an emphasis on fresh seafood in a laid-back space with a chic terrace. 2201 Collins Ave., 305-938-3111; thedutchmiami.com

5 / PERFECT POSE

For the Collection, a London restaurant, designer Tom Dixon has given a former auto showroom a fashion-centric makeover. The entrance features an 80-foot glass catwalk by Norman Foster. 264 Brompton Rd., 011-44-20-7225-1212; the-collection.co.uk
